Ever since the legendary Saturday Live skit with Christopher Walken and Will Ferrell, everybody knows there is only one prescription: More Cowbell! So The Weight did just that and came up with a heavy drum groove and even more cowbell to open their brand new single called „Operator“ from their upcoming 2nd full length album „IN CONTROL“ (spring 2020). Boebel's Telecaster sound is right out of a late 70ies' New York Groove record and Moosbrugger's bass line is something James Jamerson would have danced to. Let's just say: this song is the most danceable song The Weight came up with to date. Eventually, the „jaggeresque“ attitude singer Jussel underlines the message Ozzy Osbourne always wanted us to know: "Let's go fucking crazy!"

THE WEIGHT:

TOBIAS JUSSEL – Lead Vocal, Organ, Piano

MICHAEL BÖBEL – Electric Guitar

PATRICK MOOSBRUGGER – Bass

ANDREAS VETTER – Drums
